Case Study

Dedicated and well experienced project management helped in a stress-free show

The Challenge

- The client was looking for a modular solution that could be stable even at a height of 3.5 meters
- The flooring came as a challenge as the chemicals used in the client’s product affected the laminates and parquet (wooden floor)
- Following the strict timelines

The Solution

- An all-inclusive modular exhibition stand offered with strong stability and compelling design
- A dedicated project management team along with modular solution ensured hassle-free show

The Result

Desired results achieved within the stipulated time and client was extremely satisfied

Client Speak

“ The project management by the entire team of EDS Middle East was extremely helpful, supportive and service-driven. We are looking forward to tie up with you even for our next exhibition show. ”

Meticulous work and complete show management drove better exhibiting experience
